

Productions

The Gamut Team is just putting the final touches on a massive undertaking of acquiring gorgeous stock footage our region for Tourism Vancouver Island. David Malysheff, Arwen Hunter, and Jeremy Klaussen, have just completed 40 days of on location filming in various locations around the island, and are just now completing post-production of the project.

Last summer, David once again worked as Director of Photography/Camera Operator for 13 new episodes of the successful May Street/APTN series Tiga Talks. The series is now on air.

On the aviation front, we are currently producing a program on Viking Air's rebirth of the popular Twin Otter aircraft, which follows the successful release of our History Television one-hour documentary entitled The Immortal Beaver.

Gear

Production

Gamut Productions predominately uses the Panasonic AJ-HDX-900P High Definition video camera. This 100-megabyte per second camera is a full 2/3" 3CCD chip camera capable of shooting all frame rates and formats including 720 24p,30p as well 1080p and 1080i, to either tape, or to our 150 gigabyte Firestore drive.

We have also added the Panasonic HVX200 to our arsenal. This smaller camera is a great insert camera, and complements our larger camera nicely. We have special mounts, a shock case and an underwater bag, making it possible to get spectacular shots, impossible to get with the larger rig.

Post-Production

We are the only company on Vancouver Island currently capable of shooting and editing in a full 4:2:2 High Definition environment. Our HD cameras combined with our new High Definition Panasonic AH-1400 deck and our new Mac Pro with Kona 3 Card & means we are capable of virtually every option in cross-converting any frame rate or formats.

Personnel

Gamut Productions is pleased to announce that Jeremy Klassen has joined the Gamut team. Jeremy is well versed on Final Cut and associated programs, and is now heading up our post-production department.

Arwen continues to work as Producer and is developing new projects, and manages Gamut Productions.

Please feel free to get in touch with any of us to discuss your needs.
